First Discordant Note Is Struck in Agriculture Meet

Carolina Member Flustered Because Resolutions Committee Is Not Appointed

Finance Debated

Commodity Loans Running From Six Months to Three Years Likely to Result

Washington, Jan. 24.—The national agricultural conference got down to work on details this afternoon when the committees appointed at the first session yesterday held their first meetings. The morning was given over to an open session marked by addresses by Eugene Myer jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation; G. F. Warren of Ithaca, N. Y., who has just completed a study of European conditions; Wesley C. Mitchell of New York, economist, and Herbert Myrick of Springfield, Mass., editor of "Farm and Home." Another open session is to be held tomorrow morning.

Some signs of differences in the conference appeared after the defeat today of a motion by J. S. Wanamaker of South Carolina for appointment of a committee on resolutions. This motion was defeated on the ground that the committees already appointed were expected to consider resolutions.

Statement Attacks the Conference.

Mr. Wanamaker issued a formal statement attacking the conference and declaring "about all the farmers and farm leaders have to do in this conference is to shake hands with the President, meet some official dignitaries, partake of a little ice cream and cake and then go home."

"Selection of committees has been made in such a manner," Mr. Wanamaker said, "as to suggest that those responsible for such service are either totally ignorant of the qualifications of the delegates or have lent themselves to a cut and dried and well-baked scheme to prevent the forward-looking farmer representatives from bringing any good whatever from out of the conference."

He was "confident," he continued, that it was "the purpose of those responsible for the conference to destroy the farm bloc."

The committees in organizing today, provided in many cases for distributing the subjects before them to subcommittees.

Probably one question in which the delegates are as a whole interested is that of commodity financing. One member of the committee on agricultural credits and insurance, which has this subject under consideration, suggested today that a plan probably would be worked out to provide for commodity loans running from six months to three years.

His proposition would provide for the warehousing, grading and inspection of commodities, endorsement of commodity paper presented by farmers by their local banks, and the handling of this paper through the Federal Farm Loan Bank system, which would either discount it through the Federal Reserve system or issue debentures against the loans in the form of certificates of indebtedness to be sold on the open market.

Congressional Report at Hand.

The committee also has at its disposal the report of the joint congressional agricultural inquiry commission recommending an intermediate form of credit which would give the agricultural producers working capital.

Livestock producers, under one plan under consideration, would have their paper discounted by the local banks and rediscounted by the Farm Loan banks through the Federal Reserve system. On other commodities, one plan would have loans made direct to farmers through cooperative loan associations, the commodities being covered by proper warehouse receipts.

J. Ogden Armour, Chicago packer, met today with the committees on agricultural research and education and their report, it was indicated, probably would point out that while further research on all subjects is needed, special attention should be directed to the economic situation.

Proposals already put forward in the conference to endorse Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and pletion of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project are expected to be considered by a subcommittee of the transportation committee.

A movement to have the conference endorse extension of the War Finance Corporation by congress for another year also is already under way. Reclamation, drainage, cooperative organization of farmers, and taxation are some of the other matters under discussion by committees.

Texas Congressman's Suggestions.

Representative Sumners of Texas today submitted to the conference committee on markets suggestions for establishing the "business of agriculture upon a basis of relatively permanent economic strength and of bringing about economy and uniformity in the sale and distribution" of commodities. His suggestions included standardization of agricultural commodities with reference to their use rather than "for future board transactions," establishment of a warehouse system under which commodities could be graded, stored and guaranteed in assignable receipts, and sales through a marketing agency by grade classification, with delivery from warehouses of original or secondary storage.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, offered a resolution in the committee on agriculture and price relations to declare that men engaged in the agricultural field were "entitled to a large reward for the services they give society."

Thomas Nelson Page, former ambassador to Italy, told the committee that farmers should not look to the government for aid, adding that all wars were followed by severe agricultural depression. H. C. Charles McKenzie of New York called on labor for increased efficiency and urged co-operation between the producer and the consumer for lowering costs.

Extension of credit facilities to foreign countries to enable them to purchase surplus corn and oats was recommended by Governor McCray of Indiana, chairman of the sub-committee of the corn belt.

POPE'S FUNERAL DELAYED A DAY

Will Not Be Held Until Thursday, Unless Earlier Burial Should Be Advisable

CARDINALS LINE UP

Merry Del Val Said to Have Majority of Votes in Election of Benedict's Successor

(By The Associated Press.)

Rome, Jan. 24. — For another day, the body of Benedict XV will lie in state. The funeral ceremonial will thus be delayed until Thursday. An official announcement to this effect was made this afternoon, with the qualification, however, that should earlier burial be advisable the rites would take place tomorrow as originally arranged.

Fully half a million people have filed past the catafalque in St. Peter's to view the body of the late pope, and while the great procession has been orderly, its vastness has entailed strenuous labors on the part of gendarmes and guards, for the stream moved slowly amid scenes of grief and mourning.

An alignment of forces and opinions which are likely to clash in the conclave for the election of the new pope was plainly discernable this evening, although the opening session is nine days distant. That the question of closer relations between the Italian government and the Vatican dominates the discussion is the consensus of opinion in religious circles and the press.

That group led by Cardinal Merry Del Val, it is reported, will have more than a majority in the conclave. The so-called "peace party" of which Cardinal Maffi is head, represents perhaps a little more than one-third of the votes, while the center, the leader of which is Gasparri, favoring continuance of the policy of Pope Benedict, tolerance without actual recognition, is fewer in number.

The official acts of the Italian government after the announcement of the death of Benedict, for the purpose of showing the general sympathy of the whole Italian nation, were noted with great satisfaction by the Vatican officials.

Pontifical Mass Sung.

The first of the nine pontifical high masses for the late pope was sung this morning in the basilica of St. Peter's. Simultaneously there were solemn ceremonies in all the great basilicas, including the Lateran and Santa Maria Maggiore.

Meanwhile the first of the foreign cardinals are momentarily expected to arrive in Rome, and workmen are busily engaged in the Vatican making ready the quarters for the conclave of the Sacred College.

The Vatican received telegraphic advices today from London, Warsaw, Posen and Budapest that Cardinals Bourne, Rakowski, Dalbor and Csernoch were hurrying to Rome to attend the pope's funeral and afterwards the conclave. With the arrival in Rome of Cardinal La Fontaine from Venice, three of the most prominently mentioned cardinals as likely successors to the seat of St. Peter, are on the ground, as Cardinals Maffi and Ratti already are here.

Telephones for Cardinals.

Telephones are being installed in the apartments of each of the cardinals, so that they will be able to communicate with one another inside the Vatican. The Vatican central office, however, has been cut off from the city exchange, so there will be no telephonic communication with the outside world.

The work of walling in and transforming within the Vatican in connection with the conclave is under the immediate supervision of Marquis Sacchetti, who is personally directing the workmen. It is announced the office of the papal secretary of state will remain open during the conclave.

The regular tenants of the apartments overlooking St. Peter's square, where the conclave will be held, already have begun to move out to make room for the cardinals. Carpenters are making necessary alterations in the [illegible] of the building containing sixty-one apartments, including kitchens, where the cardinals, each with one secretary and one valet, will live during the conclave.

Cardinal O'Connell Sails.

New York, Jan. 24.—Cardinal O'Connell of Boston sailed for Italy today on the steamship President Wilson to join the Sacred college which starts balloting on February 2 to select a successor to Pope Benedict XV.

The only hope that an American cardinal will have a voice in the selection of the next pope depends, however, on the possibility of protracted deliberations by the Sacred College. It was said the President Wilson could not possibly reach Trieste before February 1 or 5. It is a three-hour trip from Trieste to Rome.

Commenting on the possibility of reaching Rome too late to cast his ballot, Cardinal O'Connell said:

"I am simply performing my duty in leaving for Rome as soon as possible after receiving notification of the death of the Holy Father. I do not know whether I shall arrive in time to take part in the election of his successor."

Newspaper Opinions on Outcome.

While there seems to be no doubt that the next pope will be an Italian, the newspapers express the hope that the next pontiff may be one who will put an end to the long discord between the church and the Italian government. Seemingly for that reason, Cardinal Maffi, archbishop of Pisa, is strongly favored by the Italians, judging from the comment. In virtually all the newspapers his name appears at the head of the list for the tiara of St. Peter.

Reception at the Vatican of an Italian cabinet minister on Saturday, and the half-masting of the flag on the Quirinal in mourning for the Pope, are commented upon at length by the press.

Through the Stefani news agency the Italian government stated today it was in no way trying to influence the choice of the next pope. While all legal provisions would be rigidly enforced, it was said, every convenience would be placed at the disposal of the cardinals coming to Rome, the railroads being given instructions to facilitate their travel.

Observers of the situation are commenting on the feeling of conciliation that seems to be general, with wishes expressed that past differences be made up, and that the whole membership of the sacred college be made present.

BERLIN DESPAIRS ACTION ON AMBASSADOR TO U. S.

(By the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Jan. 24. — The German cabinet is despairing action on the appointment of an ambassador to the United States. It was said unofficially today that no ejection would be made until the economic situation of Germany was clarified.

SIMMONS PRESENTS SOLDIER BONUS BILL

Almost Identical With Measure Which Was Recommitted to Finance Committee in Summer

Washington, Jan. 24. — The question of a bonus for former service men again was formally presented in the senate today through the introduction by Senator Simmons, Democrat of North Carolina, of the five-way adjusted compensation plan as an amendment to the Allied debt refunding measure.

With the exception of provisions for payment of the bonus, the Simmons amendment is identical with the bonus bill which was recommitted to the finance committee last summer after President Harding had addressed the senate on the subject. The provisions for payment of the bonus call for the issuance of short term treasury certificates until interest on the debt can be collected to retire them, and later the use of the principal of the debt if and when such becomes available through the issuance and sale of the foreign bonds.

Treasury opposition to a soldier bonus remains unchanged, but if there is to be a bonus it must be provided through taxation in addition to taxes imposed by existing law, Secretary Mellon declared tonight in a letter to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee. Any attempt to provide for the bonus through the use of the principal and interest of the foreign debt to this country, he continued, "would be futile, as well as unwise."

Mr. Mellon's letter was in response to a request from Mr. Fordney for an expression of the views of the secretary and the treasury department on the governmental financial outlook for the coming year and a half and for suggestions as to legislation.

Submitting detailed estimates of government receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year of 1922-23 and the treasury plan for refunding the short dated debt, Mr. Mellon declared no allowance had been made for the soldier bonus, which would cost, on the most conservative estimates, he said, probably no less than $550,000,000 in the first two years.

DRY ENFORCEMENT IN CITIES URGED

Local Peace Officers Seem to Think It a Federal Task, Senator Lowman Asserts

Albany, Jan. 24. — "There seems to be a feeling among local peace officers that the enforcement of the prohibition law is something out of their province on the theory that it is a federal matter and the enforcement of the law should be left to the federal authorities, or some distant officer of the state," Senator Seymour Lowman, Republican of Chemung, declared tonight. Mr. Lowman thus explained the reason for the introduction in the legislature today of three bills, sponsored by the Anti-Saloon League, which are intended to authorize municipalities to enact ordinances to aid in the enforcement of any federal or state law.

Assemblyman John J. Richford, Republican, also of Chemung, who introduced the bills in the lower house, declared that the "rum runner, bootlegger and booze vendor should be cleaned up" and that enactment of the measures would bring this about.

MAGISTRATE BREAKS ALL SPEED RECORDS IN COURT

New York, Jan. 24. — Magistrate Norman J. Marsh broke all speed records in traffic court today when he shot 311 offending autoists past his reviewing stand in 267 minutes—one every 19 seconds.

The first speeder flashed across the line at 9:15 a. m. and the last at 12:42 p. m., the court's bookmaker gathering $906 as they broke the tape at the judge's stand—$4.76 for each minute the court was in session.

NEW SHOP RULES ALL REJECTED

Committee of Railway Shop Crafts Orders New Disputes Instituted With Roads

MEN DISSATISFIED

Rule Providing Straight Time for Sunday-Holiday Work Is Especially Opposed

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Rejection of all railroad shop rules recently promulgated by the United States Railroad Labor board, which cut time and a half pay for extra work from the shopmen's wages, was ordered today by the committee of 100 acting for the six railway shop crafts.

In a circular issued to the 500,000 shop workers in the country, the committee ordered new disputes instituted with the railway managements immediately over these rules, and failing in agreement, the disputes were ordered taken to the labor board for hearing.

Of the seven rejected rules, the greatest dissatisfaction centered on Rule 6, providing straight time for regular assigned work on Sundays and holidays, previously paid for at time and one-half. The committee proposed a substitute rule re-instating time and one-half.

Emergency Work Rules Rejected.

The board's rules covering employes assigned to emergency work and to fill temporary vacancies at outlying points were also rejected by the committee because they took away certain pay provisions contained in the old national agreement made during federal control. Under Rule 10, emergency employes are paid for time worked in accordance with the practice at the home station and straight time for all time waiting or traveling.

The union committee directed institution of a dispute to reinstate time and one-half and double time to cover all time spent on the emergency assignment whether working, waiting or traveling.

Similar provisions will be asked in disputes to be created over Rules 12 and 14 applying to men assigned to temporary vacancies at out-lying points and to men on road work who leave and return to their home stations daily.

Physical Examination Opposed.

The board's new rule allowing the carriers to require a physical examination of all applicants for employment was also remanded to the system of federations to re-negotiate with the individual roads. The committee directed that the dispute be instituted to have this rule modified "in the interests of the employes."

Another important rule, by which the board made it possible for the roads to hire any man familiar with the use of tools as a car repairer, came under fire by the committee. A rule was proposed over which the carmen are directed to open negotiations.

Thirty-three other rules were accepted, subject to the interpretation which the committee placed upon them, and the remaining rules were agreed to.

Some revision of certain of the overtime rules was said to be likely as they were found to permit of different interpretations as they stand at present. Railroad officials, however, declared there was little likelihood of reinstating of all time and one-half provisions wiped out by the board.

RULES AGAINST MEYER PROBE

Court of Appeals Declares Hylan Investigators Had No Right to Appoint Sub-Committee.

Albany, Jan. 24.—The court of appeals today upheld the ruling of the supreme court, New York county, and the appellate division, first department, in ruling that the Meyer committee of the legislature, investigating the affairs of New York city, had no right to appoint a sub-committee to take testimony.

The judgment of the lower courts was rendered in the case of John A. Leach, first deputy police commissioner of New York city, who, by advice of Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien, refused to appear before Senator Schuyler Meyer, committee chairman, sitting as a sub-committee of one to hear testimony relating to the affairs of the police department. Samuel A. Berger, counsel to the Meyer committee, endeavored to have Deputy Leach committed for contempt.

The court of appeals ruled that the resolution of the legislature creating the Meyer committee did not give it power to take testimony through sub-committees.

UNION COLLEGE FRESHMAN IS KILLED WHILE SKIING

Schenectady, Jan. 24.—Harold Lewis Turner, a freshman at Union college, was killed while skiing in the town of Rotterdam late today. While going down a steep incline, the pole which he carried caught in the snow in front of him and the other end struck him in the abdomen, causing, it is believed, internal injuries. Turner, who was 20 years of age, resided in Batavia.

FIVE MEN GIVEN LIFE TERMS FOR LYNCHING NEGRO WORKER

Oklahoma City, Jan. 24.—Five men, two of them negroes, were sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary when they entered pleas of guilty in district court here today to charges of complicity in the lynching of Jake Brooks, negro packing house worker, here the night of January 24.

Swinging Into High Speed, Arms Parley Nears End of Work

Little Save Perfunctory Detail Remains to Bring Diverse Tasks to Conclusion

Siberia Settled

Last Difference Over Principle in Naval Treaty Also Swept Away

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Jan. 24.—Swinging into high speed again, the arms conference today made quick work of the Siberian question, virtually agreed on the sole remaining issue of the naval reduction plan, completed a re-definition of the scope of the four-power Pacific treaty, and pushed on toward a solution of the Shantung tangle and various lesser problems.

So sweeping was the day's progress that little save perfunctory detail remained tonight to bring all the diverse tasks of the conference to a simultaneous conclusion. Some of the more optimistic among the delegates were predicting that the final wind-up would come within a week.

In its two-day incursion into the Siberian field, the Far Eastern committee contented itself with listening to and spreading on the conference record detailed statements of the views of the Japanese and American governments. Japan's declaration disclaimed territorial designs in Russia but set forth the reasons that impel her to keep troops in Eastern Siberia, and the reply of the United States reiterated the desire that no permanent infringement upon Russia's integrity would result.

Except for the French, who expressed confidence in the Japanese pledge to withdraw from Siberian soil as soon as stable conditions will permit, no other delegation joined in the discussion. Secretary Hughes proposed the readily-accepted resolution by which the item was wiped off the conference program, to appear no more until the pronouncements of the two governments are formally entered in the minutes of the next plenary session.

Naval Treaty in Form.

The last difference over principle in the naval treaty, relating to the fortification status quo in the Pacific, was swept away in informal consultations among the chief delegates after it had held up completion of the treaty text for many days. Under the settlement, the British plan of defining a latitude and longitude boundary for the status quo zone is replaced by the Japanese suggestion that instead there be a list by name of the islands which must not be further fortified. The Japanese agreed that the Japanese Bonin group should be included under the prohibition.

A further cause for delay developed, however, when the Japanese plenipotentiaries declared their desire to submit the fortifications article in exact phraseology to Tokio for approval. The Tokio officials already have agreed to all but the minor details of wording, and a favorable reply is expected within a few days.

Re-definition of the geographical scope of the four-power Pacific treaty, already signed, took the form of a series of notes which have been completed and mutually approved by the four powers and will be formally exchanged for the record before the conference ends. They reverse the previous informal agreement of the delegates and provide that in constructing the treaty hereafter the majority Japanese islands, including the Bonin group, shall not be classed among the "insular possessions and dominions" to which the instrument applies.

The Shantung Negotiations.

In the Shantung negotiations between the Japanese and Chinese, it became apparent that outside pressure for a settlement was increasing as the two groups met to clear away various minor details of the points on which they already have agreed. The question of the Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railroad, now virtually the only undetermined issue, was not touched upon at the meeting, but it was actively under consideration in American and British quarters because of the exercise of "good offices" by Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour.

By conference officials in close touch with the progress of the American-British conference effort, it was said tonight that a settlement was "very near." Both the Japanese and Chinese refused to make predictions but they showed evidence of a willingness to resume the railroad discussion directly as a result of the developments of the last few days.

HARDING DOES NOT FAVOR IMMEDIATE LAND ARMS CUT

Washington, Jan. 24. — Although President Harding believes that the work of the Washington conference eventually will lead to reduction of both naval and land armament, he is not prepared now to recommend any radical reduction to the land forces of the United States.

It was said today at the White House that congress might with the President's approval make some "modest reductions" below the present 150,000 limit of the American army, but that the administration would not give its approval to any reduction which would bring the army below the point of absolute national safety, especially as the world has not yet recovered from the effect of the war.

An army approximating the present strength of 150,000, the President is said to believe, represents a proper example to the world. He feels, it is said, that Russia, with her half million or more effectives, does not represent such an example but rather presents a poor picture of what a great democracy should do.

BODDY ON TRIAL FOR SLAYING DETECTIVES

"Luther Boddy Shot Me" Says Ante-Mortem Statement of One of Slain Men

New York, Jan. 24. — The ante-mortem statement of Detective Francis J. Buckley, who, with Detective Sergeant William Miller, was slain January 5, was introduced today during the trial of Luther Boddy, negro, who is charged with the crimes.

After Buckley had told Sergeant England that he believed he was fatally wounded, he dictated this statement, according to witnesses:

"About 8:15 tonight, Luther Boddy shot me. I was walking on the outside. Boddy was in the middle. Miller was on the inside. We were walking west. Boddy, who had his hands in his overcoat, fired three shots. Then I fell."

England testified he had removed from Buckley's pocket a photograph of Boddy and that Buckley had said, "That is Luther Boddy who shot me."

Adam G. Adubato, Newark taxi driver, who carried Boddy to Jersey City when the negro, disguised in woman's attire, was fleeing two days later, testified that Boddy revealed his identity, threatened him with a gun, and said there was a price on his head, dead or alive.

After Dr. Charles A. Norris, medical examiner, and Dr. Matthew D. Giorgi, Harlem hospital surgeon, had testified to the nature of Buckley's wounds and his death, Charles C. Allison, parole officer in the "Black Belt," said that Boddy, then at liberty on parole, visited him the night of the murders, to turn in his parole card. He testified he saw Detectives Buckley and Miller follow the negro.

Several witnesses testified to seeing the shooting, but did not identify Boddy.

Sir Francois LeMieux, chief justice of Quebec, Canada, sat beside Justice Wasservogel, the trial judge, for a time.

Block, a golfer, was today made known when it was learned he died of pneumonia which he contracted as the result of his plunge into the icy waters of a lagoon in Forest park here January 8 and rescued Donald Mann, aged 9, a caddy, who ventured onto the thin ice to retrive golf balls. Block was buried today in Chicago.

M'KELLAR PRAISES NEW FORD PROJECT

Tennessee Senator Says It Means Cheaper Fertilizer—Contract Sent Ford for His Signature

Washington, Jan. 24 — The proposal of Henry Ford to purchase and lease of the government properties at Muscle Shoals was praised today in a note by Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, who declared acceptance of the offer "means cheaper fertilizer for the farmers and the upbuilding of a great section of the south."

The Tennessee senator attended the National Fertilizer association's luncheon, at which Ford's proposal was discussed with respect to the Ford offer, he declared, "ought to be considered by every right-thinking man."

Ford's proposal embodied in contract form, was placed in the mail today by Secretary Weeks. The Secretary announced that as soon as it was signed by Mr. Ford and returned here, he would submit the contract immediately to Congress for its consideration.

Schenectady, Jan. 24.—Three men were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Adam's house, a lodging house for laborers, on Broadway, this city, today. Several persons were slightly injured. The dead are: John Taylor, Tim Hurley and Andy Gallagher.

The cause of the fire is not known. The blaze spread rapidly and trapped the three victims in their rooms. Owing to the fact that the house kept no register, identification of the dead was difficult.

EX-SOLDIER MAY BE FOUL PLAY VICTIM

Former Aviator, Married Two Weeks Ago, Found Wandering About Rochester Streets

New York, Jan. 24.—Belief that her husband, Edward C. Shepard, picked up on the streets of Rochester early this morning while wandering about in a dazed condition, was a victim of foul play, was expressed tonight by Mrs. Marie Shepard of Richmond, Va. She said her husband, who had been injured in France while serving as an aviator during the war, left her Sunday evening, bound for Washington, where he was to collect $1,500 from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. She said he had no business that could have taken him to Rochester and expressed the belief that he had been lured there through some trick.

Mrs. Shepard, who before her marriage on January 5 was Miss Marie Selden, and her husband came to New York on their honeymoon. Dispatches from Rochester reported that Shepard was being detained in a hospital for observation. He was thought to be suffering from amnesia.

Strict Enforcement of Traffic Laws Is Urged

Albany, Jan. 24. — Legislation designed to provide for a state motor vehicle commissioner with power and a sufficient number of inspectors and examiners to bring about strict enforcement of the traffic and motor vehicle laws and a state-wide system of licensing automobile drivers in an effort to reduce the number of automobile accidents, will be recommended in a report to be filed with the Legislature [illegible] morning by a joint committee which has made a study of the subject.

The report was made public tonight by Senator Seymour Lowman of Chemung, chairman of the committee.

"The startling fact was disclosed," said the report, "that during 1921, 1,981 persons were killed outright in the public highways of the state by motor vehicles and that more than 40,000 persons were injured, and that the property loss is estimated at several millions of dollars."

DAY'S DEALINGS IN STOCKS WAS LIGHT

Further Division of Opinion in Speculative Circles Indicated By Course of Market

New York, Jan 24. — Further division of opinion in speculative circles was indicated by the course of today's stock market. Several of the more volatile specialties which recently became prominent changed their gains substantially, but investment rails and industrials were dull and little changed.

Dealings in stocks were light. Gulf States Steel, Electric Storage Battery, Manati Sugar and Vanadium Steel were among the leaders at net gains of two to almost eight points.

Seasoned steels and equipments were under intermittent pressure and the demand for rails was smaller than at any period.

The money market reversed its course of the previous day, call loans falling from 5 to 4½ per cent on the exchange at midday, with private accommodations at four per cent.

Interest in the bond market was confined to new issues, including the Department of the Seine (France) $25,000,000 offering, for which subscriptions were said to be in excess of the amount of the loan. Government bonds were uneven and the same tendency was shown by rails and industrials.

LOCAL GUARDSMEN LOSE

Company H of Binghamton Defeats Company G at Armory Last Evening, 35 to 26—St. Mary's Beat Cobleskill in Preliminary.

In the battle at the Oneonta State armory furiously waged last evening by the basket ball forces of Company G of this city and Company H of Binghamton, the down river forces proved that they were superior in pass work and shooting and emerged victorious from the struggle by a 35 to 26 score. There was no easy victory, however, for the local guardsmen contested their advance every inch of the way.

For Company H Delaney, with three field baskets and six successful foul shots, and Palmer, with four field goals, were the shining lights. Every man on the team played a steady game and fought desperately until the last. For the Binghamton militiamen, Springman and Smith starred, the former amassing 14 points and the latter 12.

Following the game, which was witnessed by a crowd smaller than the game deserved, dancing was enjoyed, the Klipnocks Syncopaters furnishing the music.

CREAM OF RUSSIA'S INTELLIGENCE GONE

Premier Lenine Anxious to Have Two Million Refugees Return to Country

Moscow, Jan. [illegible]—Russia's lack of constructive leadership for its industrial and commercial reconstruction is more apparent every day and the necessity for inducing refugees to return is clearer to the Bolshevists perhaps, than to non Bolshevists who have less knowledge of the inefficiency of government departments and the difficulties of Communists have behind the scenes.

Premier Lenine has repeatedly stressed the desirability of attracting back to Russia the 2,000,000 Russians who fled to all countries and represent the cream of Russian intelligence. The engineers, scientists, bankers, teachers and merchants are greatly needed.

Letts, Esthonians and Lithuanians played a large part in the business life of old Russia. They had enjoyed the benefits of both Swedish and German culture. Many of them are highly trained specialists and managers and directors of various enterprises. But they have nearly all left disorganized Russia and taken up residence in the new Baltic states.

Baltic merchants will not re-enter trade in Russia for they lack confidence in the Communist government. Manufacturers are unwilling to resume their old work until government concessions. Even property owners, or rather former property owners are unwilling to take back their apartment houses and hotels under the proposed concession plan. Consequently the new economic policy is falling far short of expectations.

Free domestic trade is not entirely free. The term is misleading. It is impossible for merchants to ship goods at will on Russian railways. Permits are required for each shipment. It is difficult to get these. The pilfering on rail lines is extensive. There is no insurance.

It is largely through the goods carried by hard that markets in the great cities are supplied. Railway men carry flour and sugar from Ukraine to eke out an existence. It brings a better price in Moscow and Petrograd. Meat is also carried to the cities by railway employes and regular dealers who employ carriers.

Lenine's insistence that the government must win the confidence and support of the intelligent classes is generally regarded as a preparation for further movements to the right in governmental policies as soon as it is possible to make them without disrupting the Communist party utterly.

The Communist party is rapidly becoming a party in the sense that the United States and England have parties. Its important leaders show daily signs of making further concessions, to the hostile majority which will have nothing to do with Communist principles, or half-Communist schemes such as the concession plan of letting factories to old owners.

The building up of the Far Eastern Republic at Chita under Bolshevist domination, but with general elections and right of private property is looked upon in Russia as an indication of revised policies which will eventually be adopted in European Russia.

MRS. HOYT THREATENED TO DROWN HERSELF

"I had lost all hope of ever being well again," says Mrs. George Hoyt, "but today I am as well as can be.

"It was about five years ago that I began to be troubled with indigestion and nervous spells, and I kept getting worse until I was on the verge of nervous prostration. I would get up out of bed, and my mother would have to watch me for fear I would do something to myself. I threatened several times to drown myself. For over a year I was not able to eat a single good meal. What little I did eat caused terrible pains in my stomach and chest and so much gas formed that I was in awful distress. I tried many medicines but none of them helped me. I had heard of Gadline Tonic and Nervine from our friends and finally I got a bottle. I was more than surprised at the quick relief it gave me. It wasn't long before my appetite came back and I started to eat and never had indigestion afterwards. Yes, it was so good not to have to suffer any more! My nerves got as cool as steel and today I look as healthy as ever I can remember."

Don't neglect to get Gadline Tonic and Nervine today. It is sold in:

When Death Cancels Debt

You will have noticed in many of the newspapers the advertisements of dealers in bonds offering them for sale to the public on the installment plan. Some of them are excellent investments and some are not.

Will any of these dealers cancel the unpaid installments if you die and hand over the bonds? They will not.

Will they cancel the unpaid installments and pay you an income for life in addition if you suffer permanent disability? They will not.

Will they guarantee that the value of the bonds will increase in value; will they even guarantee that they will not depreciate? They would laugh at the suggestion and think you simple. But Life Insurance will.

PACKING BOXES.

It takes a lot of lumber to provide boxes for packing loads, even in the state of New York. According to figures provided by the State College of Forestry, the annual consumption in this country outside last year was 3,239,000,000 board feet. "The surprising fact," 914,000,000 feet the amount of lumber used for packing fruits in 1919, which is the last year for which figures are available. These figures do not include the lumber used in containers, such as berry baskets, nor the wood used in cooperage and for cigar and tobacco boxes. Probably the great majority of this lumber is used but once, and then goes to the garbage heap of the kitchen fire or furnace. While everybody is properly being urged to plant trees, a movement might well be set afoot to conserve the used boxes. Why not have a save the Boxes week?"

ON PROBATION.

It if quite possible that the probation system as applied to first offenders and those who commit minor offenses, may not be entirely perfect. On the other hand it has unquestioned value with young persons and with young married men who have failed to support their families. The younger ones, if placed in charge of and reporting regularly to a probation officer, are much more fortunately placed than if they are sent to a reformatory institution, where their companions will be other boys of their own sort, and where their knowledge of crime and how to commit it is likely to become more extensive. Men failing to support their families were formerly sent to jail. Now they go on probation, and they can work and make good—evidently a better plan, since a husband in jail is a flat failure as a provider.

AMARITAL PROBLEM.

And, speaking of marital conditions, the latest bulletin of the United States Chamber of Commerce states that there are 21,318,933 married women in the country. The same bulletin is authority for the statement that there are 21,849,266 married men. As these figures are independent of the men and women catalogued as single, married or divorced, it would appear that the disparity is not due to social conditions in the Mormon state of Utah. If it were the extra half million, or at least a large part of it would be on the other side of the scales. Possibly the difference may be due to the presence of foreign-born married men whose wives have not accompanied them to America.

TRUCKS AND RAILROADS.

It is the prediction of A. J. Brosseau, secretary of the National Automobile chamber of commerce, and president of the Mack Truck company, that motor transportation trucks are the natural ally of railroads instead of their competitors. It is in the long haul, Mr. Brosseau holds, that the railways make the most money, since there are few stops and little or no rehandling of freight from starting point to destination. The trucks, he says, will handle the town-to-town traffic, and the railways the heavier long-distance runs, to the ultimate profit of both.

ASSERTING HERSELF.

Herbert Quick, concerning whom there is the authority of his press agent for asserting that he is a "famous novelist," says that woman should assert herself and enter her claim for the earth. She should have equal pay for equal work and wives should keep their own names if they wish. Nobody will question the first proposition, a very much smaller one will agree with the second. But what will everybody will want to know, quick, is what name the children will bear.

CIDER APPLE FREIGHTS.

The Public Service commission announces that cider apples after February 14 will be shipped over the Central New England lines at 25 cents per cwt, which is a reduction. In view of the smallness of the apple crop last fall the loss to the company through reduced rates for apples this spring from Millbrook, Millerton and Poughquag will not be considerable, though it will show up big in tables of reduction of freight rates by the companies interested.

PLAN BOY SCOUT RALLY.

Value of Boy Scout Activity to Be Presented to Citizens.

At a conference of a committee of the Boy Scout council of the city with the city pastors, held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning, it was decided that as one of the steps incident to an effort to rally support for the Boy Scout movement here a mass meeting in the interest of the Scouts be held at the First Methodist church on Sunday evening, Feb 12th, at which time it is expected that several speakers will be heard. They will tell what the Scout movement is doing for the boys in other communities and of the possibilities in Oneonta provided a sufficient number of troops can be organized and properly manned with scoutmasters. Later announcement will be made as to the speakers. It is hoped that citizens who are interested in boys will plan to attend the rally and manifest that interest.

Winter's Vexations.

It is sometimes a question as to which is the most disturbing influence in the winter time—seed catalogs and with the illustrations of beautiful flowers, wonderful vegetables and amazing gardens and lawns, or the literature one receives from winter resorts, where brilliant sunshine, blue water, waving branches and delightful temperatures are said to prevail all the time.

"The Joy of Being.

The following poem, one of the latest from the pen of John Kendrick Bangs, the well-known American author who died on Saturday last, will be read with interest by many to whom the cheerful optimism of Mr Bangs was always a delight

Whither my road is leading me
Perhaps I do not know;
But, oh, the path is fair to see,
And sweet the wind that blows!
In sun or storm, by day or night,
If skies are lowering or bright,
The highroad leads with such delight
I run, what heart askew.
The lanes may thorny be, and lead
To steeps heart-shrinking high.
The forests wild with brush and weed
My strength may mostly.
Yet with resolve to do and dare,
I hold within my soul small care
For hazards spread o'er pathways where
The goals worth winning lie.
It is enough to live and plan,
To joy in earth and sea,
To do what things a mortal can
With spirit blithe and free,
To prove one's strength of soul and will,
To meet and overcome the ill.
And in the end to gain the thrill
Of manful ma tery."

CLIPPINGS FROM EXCHANGES

The "Impossible" DeValera.

The writer of this article has known and dealt at close range with every Irish leader for the past half century, but he has never met one so implacable, self-willed, stubborn and incapable of winning other men to his views, or of conciliating honest differences of opinion, as DeValera. DeValera is absolutely impossible. He has no real strength of character and no convictions except an overweening self-confidence, which is founded neither on achievement nor power of persuasion. His position is: "I want this thing done and you must not ask me why. The Irish people have selected me as their spokesman and that is enough." This attitude on the part of a man with wide experience of public affairs would be bad enough, but in the case of a man with no experience at all and no training it is simply intolerable.—[Gaelic American.

State Supervisory Functions.

From all Nebraska come indications of restiveness under the many recent extensions of government functions. There are protests against the inspectors who take fees for checking up business men's scales, against the veterinarians who make farmers test their cows, and even against the employment of county agents to look after the special interests of the farmers.

There are doubtless many remediable wastes. There may be some services that can be discontinued without loss. There is danger, however, of an indiscriminate slashing which will do more harm than good. Let us hope that while the knife is at work on the tumors the excitement of the surgeon will not be such that vital organs are gashed.—[Nebraska State Journal.

Scrapping the Brooklyn.

Built in 1896, playing a distinguished part in the most important naval action of the Spanish war, the cruiser Brooklyn has been sold for junk. The Brooklyn carried a main battery of 8-inch guns and was designed for a speed of 21 knots, which, we believe, she exceeded on her trial trip. She was Admiral Schley's flagship at Santiago, and the absence from the blockading station of her sister cruiser New York, made her the leader in the pursuit of Cervera's squadron when it unexpectedly emerged from hiding on July 3, 1898.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

Russia's Crown Jewels.

Hugo Stinnes is reported to have accepted the Russian crown jewels in pawn from the Soviet government at 60 per cent of their value. At home Stinnes is popularly known as the uncrowned king of Germany. Now that he has bought at an end of season sale, he has all that is necessary to start a Stinnes dynasty if he chooses.—[New York Herald.

"Good News For All."

Republican senators, by a vote of 31 to 2, have committed themselves in favor of soldiers' bonus legislation at the present session of congress. That is good news for the soldiers, and, though they may not believe it, even for the civilians out of whose pockets, directly or indirectly, the money to finance the adjusted compensation must come. — [Chicago Tribune.

Where the Slide Trombone Is Barred.

Ralph E. Fletcher, who has been in the real estate business at Sacramento for some years, will be remembered as a player of the slide trombone in the local band some years ago. The other leading spirits in that organization have since joined the heavenly choir. — [Redwood City, Cal., Star

APPEALS TO BOYS AND GIRLS

Out of 710 Who Took Up the Dairy Project, 544 Carried It Through.

Boys and girls like dairying. At least that is the conclusion one draws from the fact that of the 710 who took up the dairy project in Junior extension 544 "stuck by" and made their report at the end. This is a 77 per cent of "stickers," the highest tallied in any of the projects, according to the report of the state leader of junior extension at Ithaca. The dairy project includes both raising calves and testing herds.

Many more who had successfully carried on the work of their project failed to submit records on November 1st, the date specified, and so could not be included among those actually completing; the record is a required part of the work. More than three-quarters of the animals raised by these boys and girls were purebred. The total value of animals raised was practically $65,000 and the cost of rearing $48,000.

Dairy Workers Older.

One of the reasons given by the state leader for the above facts is that these dairy project workers are somewhat older than those in other lines of work. For junior project work as a whole, there are more workers 12 years old than of any other age, but for the dairy work there are more in the 14-year group than any other. Added to this is the fact that the dairy project workers have a comparatively good-sized capital invested in their animals, and so feel their responsibility somewhat more keenly than do those in some other kind of work.

PEOPLE'S PARLIAMENT.

When I Was a Boy.

Editor Star:

I wonder how many citizens of Oneonta fully realize just what is involved in the park improvement bond issue for $25,000 to be voted upon at the special election Thursday? Is there not a danger that some will vote against the measure because taxes are high, because the city must be bonded in the near future for the school building in the sixth ward, and for other reasons entirely extraneous to the point at issue?

Were the persons most vitally affected, the children of the city allowed to vote the measure would be overwhelmingly passed. The bond issue proposal was drawn up and presented to the common council that the children, who in future years will be expected to carry on the work of the city, should not be denied the privileges of wholesome exercise and life-giving recreation which the expenditure by the city of $25,000, a paltry sum when the issue at stake is considered, would assure them.

When I was a boy I had the same instinct for play that the boys of the present generation possess. I satisfied that desire, or rather was forced to satisfy it, in ways that were a source of danger to myself and to others. I wanted to swim and did swim—not in such a swimming pool as the passage of the bond issue will make possible, but in the electric light dam and in the river. That I was not drowned was not because the swimming places were safe but because of my good fortune. I wanted to play ball and did play ball—in the middle of the street, endangering the safety of others as well as my own. The boys of today cannot even play in the street. The increasing number of automobiles has made that practice so unsafe that it has been forbidden. I desired to play tennis, but had to curb that desire because there were no courts available.

The result is that children now seek their pleasure at the movies and in social ways which the boys of my day considered unbefitting a red-blooded lad. The sum proposed, $25,000, is not a large amount to be expended on park improvements so largely benefitting the children. It will take but a small sum yearly from the pocket of any taxpayer. Is not the welfare and happiness of your children worth the trifling increase in taxes which the passage of the bond issue would entail?

Constant.

A Pleasant Surprise.

About 30 friends and relatives of Mrs. George W Reynolds made her a very pleasant surprise on Monday evening at her home, 62 East street. Cards and dancing furnished amusement and delicious refreshments were served by the guests. Mrs. Reynolds was also the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts as memorials of the occasion, which was her birthday.

IMPROVED STAR DELIVERY

Commencing Thursday Morning Daily Stars Will Reach Subscribers on Rural Routes in Otego Valley the Same Day.

Commencing on Thursday morning The Daily Stars will be delivered to subscribers on the rural routes in the Otego valley and other points north to Cooperstown the same day. Since the new time table on the trolley became effective for the winter months with the last car leaving the city at 8:05 a. m., and hauling milk along the line it has not delivered the papers at points beyond Laurens in time to be carried out on the rural routes. The carriers at this season of the year are obliged to leave at 8 o'clock, the scheduled time, in order to make the round of the routes and reach home before dark.

The continued illness of General Manager Graves has prevented consideration of the situation by him, but recently he having improved in health the matter was brought to his attention with the result that an agreement has been reached whereby the trolley company will, commencing tomorrow morning, run a car from Hartwick to Laurens in the early morning, connecting with the car which leaves this city at 5:35 a. m. and arrives in Laurens at 6:01, and then returning to Hartwick to connect with the car which leaves there at 7.23 for points north. This will result in a much earlier delivery of the papers at all points north of Mt. Vision to and including Cooperstown.

This will also enable residents of Hartwick and points south on the trolley to reach Oneonta in time to connect with morning trains east and west on the D. & H. and also enable any residents of the city having business along the trolley or places in the Mohawk valley and desirous of returning the same day to leave here at an early hour and make the trip.

In Thursday's issue a revised schedule showing the changes for the information of the public will be published. Manager Graves is to be commended for his willingness to assume an added expense to improve the service and certain it is that the improved deliveries of The Star will be appreciated by the many Star readers in the territory as well as by the publishers.

Change in Treaty Making.

The American people are adding an unwritten amendment to our written constitution. That document provides that treaties shall be made by the executive with the advice and consent of the senate. The American people have decided they must be made with their advice and consent. This is one way of saying that the American people are interested in their foreign relations as they have never been before, except in moments of acute crisis, and that they are determined to exert control over these relations rather than consign them to the care of any deputy, however highly they may respect him. —[Chicago Tribune.

Fun in the Press.

Mary had a bank account,
'Twas modest but it grew.
It followed her where'er she went,
As bank accounts will do,
Now Mary was a thrifty lass,
And saved her extra cash,
That's why she lives on "porterhouse"
While sister's eating hash.

CITY TAX STATEMENTS OUT.

Property Owners in Oneonta Have Until Feb. 24 to Make Payment.

Taxpayers of the city of Oneonta had the somewhat modified pleasure yesterday of receiving from the office of City Chamberlain Bowdish their annual statements of city, county and state taxes due. These taxes, as previously noted, are at the rate of $12.3377 per $1,000 for county and state and $13.161 for general city purposes, the total for the two being a little less than $25.80 per $1,000. The last day for the payment of these taxes at one per cent is February 24. After that date five per cent additional must be paid, with one per cent extra for each succeeding month after the first publication of the notice.

As will be noted by the above figures, the state and county tax are very nearl equal to those paid for city purposes. Taxpayers who desire more fully to understand the purposes for which the city money is appropriated can gain this information by reading the figures of the annual tax budget, which are given on the left side of the notice.

OPPOSE SNOW REMOVAL

TOWN SUPERINTENDENT OF OTEGO DIRECTS PLOWING OF ROAD CEASE.

President Butts and Secretary Brownell of Oneonta Auto Club Hope to Effect Understanding Today—Early Action at Albany Indicated.

Rumblings of dissatisfaction over the removal of snow from the state roads hereabout culminated yesterday in the serving of a formal notice upon the officers of the Oneonta Auto club by A. S. Bouton, superintendent of highways in the town of Otego, to stop removing the snow from the highways of that town until a satisfactory understanding is reached.

President Butts and Secretary Brownell of the club will today get in touch with Mr. Bouton and with representative motorists in the town of Otego and endeavor to have a satisfactory understanding reached.

The demand for the removal of the snow from the main trunk lines is well nigh universal, the only protests heard coming from a few lumbermen and farmers who wish to haul logs, lumber of other material on runners. The motorists have no desire to create any antagonism among those who wish to use sleighs on the highways, but with the reduced local train service on most of the railroads the bus lines have become almost a necessity. If the roads are not made passable for motor vehicles villages will be isolated during the winter months.

It is believed that with the motor car now almost a necessity on every sizable farm that a great majority of the citizens of any of the towns through which the trunk lines pass favor snow removal. If it be found possible to leave one side open for traffic on runners, so much of the better of course.

That the question is certain to receive consideration at Albany this winter is shown by the following item appearing in the Albany Journal last night:

A bill permitting boards of supervisors to appropriate funds for clearing state roads of snow will be introduced at the present session of the legislature by Senator Cavanaugh of Watertord as the outcome of a conference held this morning by State Highway Commissioner Sisson, representatives of automobile clubs of Albany and Saratoga counties, and officials of Saratoga county.

J. E. Hodgman, Thomas C. Luther, John K. Walbridge and James Canfield of Saratoga Springs; W. A. Humphrey, president of the Albany Automobile club; Major Compton, deputy secretary of state, and J. W. Seaton and M. A. Holmes, of the Wayside Telephone company of Troy, brought the snow removal matter to the attention of Commissioner Sisson, stating that the recent storm badly handicapped traffic on country roads throughout the state and that legislation should be provided to keep the roads free from snow.

Commissioner Sisson said that his department is not provided with funds for keeping the roads open in winter and suggested that a bill be drawn up empowering supervisors to make provision for the removal of snow. He said that if such a bill were introduced in the legislature he would favor its passage.

600 Trucks Distributed.

The highway department has distributed 600 trucks in 57 counties of the state and these will be used in clearing the roads in winter.

"Snow removal is properly a town expense," said Commissioner Sisson, "but with towns contributing heavily to road building, town funds are not available for keeping the highways open throughout the year. A law should be passed permitting boards of supervisors to provide money for this work and I believe the Kavanaugh bill will meet the requirements. The main arteries of traffic at least should be kept open throughout the year."

Wanderer Taken to County Farm.

Arrangements were made yesterday by Commissioner of Charities McGuiness to take C. Guinne, a native born Frenchman, to the County Farm, it having been found, after he had applied to the police for the second night's lodging, that he was wholly unable to work or to take care of himself. The man is 65 years old and an examination by Dr. Augustin yesterday revealed the fact that both of his feet were frozen and that he was in a physical condition which precluded his taking care of himself. The man told a pitiful story of his wanderings and of his inability to secure employment. He was taken to Cooperstown late yesterday afternoon.

Two Meetings Tomorrow.

The Otsego County Junior Project board will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the lecture room of the Huntington Memorial library for the purpose of completing business not entirely settled at the earlier meeting in Cooperstown.

At 1:15 p. m., the same day and place the Tri-County association of school superintendents will hold their winter meeting. Superintendent Nelson of Franklin will preside and Assemblyman Long of Delaware will be the principal speaker.

School Camp for Girls.

A summer school camp for girls on Otsego lake, accommodating 2,000, is said to be contemplated by the Board of Education of New York city, following a visit of inspection to Cooperstown by a representative of the New York board. Several properties were viewed as possible sites for the camp.

PARK ELECTION TOMORROW

Tax Paying Electors Asked to Approve a Bond Issue of $25,000 for the Development of Recreational Facilities.

Tomorrow, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., at the Municipal building, the tax-paying electors of the city are asked to pass upon the proposal to bond the city in the sum of $25,000 for the purpose of developing recreational facilities in the two parks of the city in accordance with plans which have been quite thoroughly presented to the public and with which all readers should be and doubtless are familiar.

The time during which the polls are to be open and the requirement that all shall vote at the one place are provisions in the city charter and were included in that document in order to reduce the expenses of such special election to a minimum.

The chief danger lies in the possibility that those who favor the step and who believe that such provisions should be made for the children will neglect their duty and refrain from voting while those who are opposed may be relied upon to appear at the polling place and register their opposition.

Two features of the limited discussion heard are surprising. It is amazing that residents of any section of the city should be inclined to register their disapproval because the parks may not be located in their immediate section of the city. The question should be viewed from the standpoint of the good of the city as a whole and no section can afford to inject the sectional issue whatever into the question lest they at some other time find that they are reaping what they have sown. Then, too, there should be no personal issue injected for none exists. The parks are the property of the city and upon it rests and obligation that all should appreciate to develop them and make them of the greatest value to all our people.

It is hoped that the majority will be decisive, sufficient to evidence that the city is to advance and give the citizens of tomorrow the very best of opportunities to develop into strong and sturdy men and women, physically, morally and mentally. The park betterments will greatly aid.

Give the boys and girls a fair chance.

WHO WILL BE MANAGER

Question of Who Will Pilot Oneonta Baseball Team Arousing Great Interest—Mystery Will Be Solved at Community Meeting at Armory Thursday Night.

The matter of who will be the manager of the Oneonta ball team for the coming season is about the most discussed question in the city right now. Every fan is all worked up about it and many are the names suggested and the theories advanced. Many of the baseball devotees are sure that they can name the man, the most popular choices seeming to be Christy Mathewson, Larry Doyle, Joe Scanlon, "Abe" Hermann, and George Paird. One of those named may be the man and then again may not be. President Marx refuses to solve the mystery, all that he will say being that the new manager has a name beginning with one of the letters of the alphabet and that he wears a coat that buttons down the front. His statement gives little basis for a guess and it looks as if the proper stunt would be to attend the big community meeting at the armory Thursday evening. The new manager will be there in person to solve the mystery.

Festivities on Thursday evening will begin with a short concert in front of the Hotel Oneonta by the Company G band. The program for the meeting itself is varied and interesting. There will be a basketball game between the Wanderers and Company I of Walton, for which the Oneonta team has been practicing faithfully; a concert by the Elks' Glee club, a dance with music by the Klipnockie Syncopators, and a free feed of hot dogs and sandwiches.

The meeting will not be for members of the Community Athletic association alone. It is designed as a community affair and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of citizens.

Slow Progress With Ice Harvest.

Laboring under the severe handicap of extremely cold weather, the Oneonta Ice and Fuel company has taken but 1,200 tons of ice from Pond Lily, although the harvest there commenced last Friday. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in keeping the channels clear, the cakes of ice freezing together very quickly. It is expected that the remainder of the week will be required to harvest the rest of the 5,000 tons needed to fill the storage house there. Thirty men are employed in the Pond Lily harvest.

Tuberculosis Clinic.

The regular tuberculosis clinic will be held at the Community house Thursday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

POKER GAME RAIDED

Police Break up Interesting Session and Arrest Arthur Giftakus as Common Gambler.

The party of five men who met last evening in a back room in the apartment over the Boston Candy Kitchen to enjoy a session of poker "smelled a rat" about 12:30 o'clock. From some unknown source the tip was passed to them that the police were aware of the game and were preparing a raid. Grabbing hats and coats they ran down the front stairs as fast as scared legs could carry them and right smack into the hands of three blue coats who were just starting up. The five were corralled and marched to the police station.

Only one of the five was held, however, Arthur Giftakus, a Greek, who resides in the apartments, and whom it is alleged, got the "rake-off" from the game. For the rest it was a question of "Gift," for Arthur a matter of "rak." Arthur also ran the game—in other words was "us." When searched, a quantity of quarter dollars was found on him.

Giftakus was placed under arrest on the charge of being a common gambler, but was released under $250 bail to await arraignment at 10 o'clock this morning. No charge was preferred against the other men.

There was a large attendance of friends and neighbors at the funeral service for Mrs. Nellie Gertrude Olds, which was held at 2 p. m. yesterday from her late home, 15 Spring street, Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley, her pastor, officiated, his remarks being full of tender sympathy and of allusions to the good deeds and mode of living of Mrs. Olds. There was a profusion of floral tributes, including pieces from the Business Woman's club, the Sunday school, Christian Endeavor society and Young Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church, and the employes of J. O. and G. N. Rowe. The body was placed in the vault at the Plains cemetery for interment in the spring, the bearers being Harold Woodward, Fred Wilcox, Henry D. McLeery and S. E. Dunham. Among those present from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. John Salisbury of Sidney.

For Peace in South America.

It was not to known the other day that the department of state had tendered its good offices to Chile and Peru for an adjustment of the ancient controversy over the provinces of Tacna and Arica, and it has since been reported that from each of those countries affirmative replies have been transmitted. Should the proceedings which it is proposed to institute result in a settlement to the satisfaction of both parties, a quarrel which has been a running sore in the international politics of South America for nearly 39 years will have at last been compounded, to the very material advantage of all concerned.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FIGHT OVER ALLIED DEBT BILL BREAKS

McCumber Pleads U. S. Not "Play Role of Shylock" in Dealing With the Allies

Washington, Jan. 24.—The fight over the Allied debt refunding bill broke today in the senate, with Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, in charge of the measure, pleading that the United States "not play the role of Shylock in dealing with our allies," and the Democrats opposing the proposed grant of authority to the debt commission to fix the time when interest payments shall begin.

The first day's consideration of the measure saw only the completion of the opening statement by Senator McCumber, as chairman of the finance committee, who was subjected to a rapid cross-fire from the minority side.

Discussions today covered a wide range, including use of proceeds from the refunding bonds to pay the soldier bonus, the ability of the debtor nation to begin paying their interest, and the plans of the administration with respect to the sale of some of the refunded obligations in the United States. Pleading for broad authority for the commission in conducting the refunding negotiations, Senator McCumber said he could conceive of a situation where it might be desirable to agree with a debtor nation to fix the interest rates on the bonds high enough to recover during the life of the bond the accumulated interest.

Senator McCumber gave it as his opinion that none of the proceeds from the refunded foreign debt would be available for the soldiers' bonus until within one year after next July 1, the date on which Republican leaders have said the bonus would be made effective. He thought that congress should supply some form of special taxation to cover bonus payments for the one year and then authorize the sale of a sufficient amount of bonds to take care of succeeding yearly bonus expenses if the interest from the foreign debt should not prove sufficient. His estimate was that for the first year the bonus would cost $300,000,000.

You wouldn't put on hobbles to run a foot race

Then why load up on handicaps for the day's work?

A good deal of food, unwisely chosen, does weigh the body down and clog the digestion, and dull the brain.

Why put on the hobbles?

Grape-Nuts is a breakfast or lunch-time dish for those who want food efficiency, and mind and body efficiency.

Grape-Nuts satisfies and nourishes. It delights the taste. It is ready to serve whenever you are ready to eat. And it digests easily, quickly and completely—leaving no handicap of heaviness and drowsiness.

Grape-Nuts is the food for health and action.

CORN FOR OTHER CEREALS

At Present Decidedly to Pocketbook Advantage to go Back to War-Time Practice.

The best way to find out which cereal is more economical for the family to use without impairing the energy-giving qualities of the family's menu is to compare prices of the different cereals.

According to the food specialists of the state college at Ithaca, all cereal grains have practically the same food values when eaten in a mixed diet containing plenty of milk, vegetables, and fruits. Therefore, at present low prices, corn may well be used in place of other grains on the family table.

Quick breads and breakfast cereals in which corn is the chief ingredient are palatable and appetizing and are easily prepared. Recipes for them will be sent to persons who write to the school of home economics at the state college at Ithaca.

Many housekeepers learned during the war to prepare corn foods in many different ways, and now that corn is so low in price, careful housewives are coming again to its wider use, according to the experts.

ASK REPEAL OF FULL CREW BILL.

State Farm Bureau Federation Claims It Causes Added Burdens.

S. L. Strivings, president of the New York farm bureau federation, has issued a statement announcing immediate efforts will be made by the federation to secure repeal by the Legislature of the "full crew act," which is part of the railroad law of the state.

Operation of the act, he said, forced railroads of the state to increase freight and passenger tariff schedules, adding an increased burden to farmers and other shippers. A bill to repeal the act will be introduced immediately, he stated.

Officials of the federation contend the act increases cost of railroad operation without corresponding benefits. President Strivings claims the full crew act has cost railroads approximately $3,000,000 under conditions of lowest traffic and $5,000,000 under conditions of maximum traffic. He finds that during the seven years and five months it has been in operation the law has cost railroads of the state about $18,000,000.

The proposed action of the federation, according to Mr. Strivings, is in line with the fixed policy of the farm bureau, which calls for lower freight rates wherever possible without encroaching upon efficiency of carriers.

RECOMMENDS IT TO ALL SUFFERING WOMEN

Burlington, Vista, N. J. — "I am a happy woman. Dear Sir: Having received such great benefit from the use of your BLOOD AND KIDNEY REMEDY, I am glad of a chance to express my thanks for same to you. I have doctored for six years with heavy doctor bills, and was nearly discouraged with trying to get well. Reading about Dr. SOUTHWORTH'S BLOOD AND KIDNEY REMEDY and what it had done for others around home, as I knew the people whose names appeared in testimonials I concluded to try it. Before finishing it was a back trial, for by its use I was restored to health. I cannot praise this medicine any too much and would cordially recommend it to all suffering women who have tried without relief the same treatments and medicines as mine to only given." MRS. JOBLESS GIRLS STORM NEW YORK

Lack of Work Fails to Retard Country Lass Seeking City Career.

SITUATION REALLY SERIOUS

Employment Bureaus Crowded With Women Who Have Been Thrown Out of Employment—War Work Brought Unrest.

New York.—The seriousness of the unemployment situation among women has apparently no terrors for the girl from upstate, the Middle West or the South, says Miss Amy Talbot of the Central Branch Y. W. C. A., according to the New York Sun. New York is the mecca toward which she turns her steps, confident that once here there will be jobs without number waiting her acceptance. Miss Talbot, who is head of the Rooms Registry Service, has noted little decrease in the number of applications for rooms received from out-of-town women seeking careers in the big city.

"As far as I have been able to discover," says Miss Talbot, "girls are not concerned with these reports of unemployment. Jobs seem of little importance compared with the fact that the young adventurer has reached New York. There is one difference. I find that now the demand is almost entirely for the $5 room, where it used to be that rooms were sought not so much for economy as for convenient locations.

Situation Is Serious.

"The situation is rapidly assuming serious proportions. Women, old and young, are now being laid off by firms which have employed them for long periods. Our employment bureaus are crowded with women who have been thrown out of employment, and yet every train that comes into our terminals brings its quota of newcomers—all of whom expect to be supplied with some means of earning their livelihood. Not an hour ago I talked with a girl who had just come in from upstate. Nothing I said in explanation of the seriousness of this problem that is confronting so many of our men and women today had any effect upon her. She has always wanted to come to New York; she had always had a good job, and she did not see why she should not find another one now. The idea that good positions are not floating around to be secured at will had evidently not entered her mind.

"We have daily to send back refusals to out-of-town applicants who would like to find rooming quarters in one of the Young Women's Christian association boarding houses. The waiting lists show there will be no vacancies for months. The pitiful part of it is that we have so many older women who are desperately in need of a place to stay, let alone the question of work to do. More and more women well past the thirty-year mark are being forced out by the stress of the times to earn their own bread and butter. They stand little chance of being met even half way—the competition is too strong for them, with these eager intelligent young minds ready to snatch up every good thing that comes along. Watch any line in an employment office and see how many of the women on it are gray-haired. There are few boarding houses and business women's clubs which will admit a woman to resident membership without considering her age most carefully. In many of these places thirty years marks the age limit. The reason that is given for this preference is that since there are not accommodations for all, it is felt that the younger woman is more in need of the protection afforded by these clubs.

War Work Brought Unrest.

"Undoubtedly, the wanderlust which brings the younger women from the security of their homes here to combat an almost hopeless situation is a phase of the unrest which followed hard upon the heels of the war. So many of our girls who until that time were content to stay quietly at home jumped into all the hundred and one activities that suddenly required the services of women. They found themselves necessary in a way they had never before dreamed of. They swung big jobs, small jobs, middle-sized jobs, with an efficiency that amazed them. Now they are not content to fold their hands.

"The younger generation has acquired a marked distaste for staying at home, where they may lead a normal life. They find they must be up and doing and in their minds New York is the only place for their activities. The question is, 'Where are the jobs for them?'"

Porcupine in School.

Walla Walla, Wash.—An exciting lesson in natural history followed the discovery of a porcupine under the desk of Principal Reed in the Pasco high school. The faculty gathered to devise means of removing the animal. The janitor retreated in dismay.

Hugh Tannant proved to be the hero of the tragi-comedy, and while the wood lore fresh in his mind he advanced on the animal with a carrot on the end of a string. Swinging the vegetable in front of the animal's nose he at last succeeded in luring it across the room and out of the building.

Special Attention.

"I am a great believer in specialists," said Ethel. "When I have trouble with my nose I go to a nose specialist, and when I have trouble with my heart I go to an expert on hearts." "There's my ideas," said old Lady Gumbusta. "And that's why when my nephew, Jimmie, had his tonsils cut out I took him to a regular tonsorial artist."

Range From Theft Prevention to Indemnity Policies for Taxi and Truck Owners

Albany, Jan. 24—Automobile legislation, ranging from bills designed to curb thefts of cars to measures providing that owners of taxicabs and auto trucks must have indemnity policies for both property and personal injuries, has made its appearance in the legislature.

Included among the dozen or more automobile bills introduced last week are:

By Assemblyman Edward J. Walsh, Democrat of the Bronx; forbidding red lights on the front of vehicles, except as permitted by local ordinance.

By Assemblyman James Male, Democrat of New York; requiring owners of taxicabs and auto trucks to exhibit to the state tax department, as a condition to obtaining a license, an indemnity policy for not less than $1,000 for property damage and $5,000 for personal injury.

By Assemblyman L. Ford Hager, Republican of Cayuga; providing that the fee for renewing chauffeurs' and motor vehicle operators' licenses shall be one dollar, effective July 1, 1921.

By Assemblyman John J. Wackerman, Democrat of New York; requiring the state tax department to notify the police authorities of sale on applications for registration by vendees, even if the vehicles do not appear to have been stolen.

By Assemblyman Arthur E. Brundage, Republican of Orange; requiring motor trucks and trailers more than 8½ feet wide and with a capacity in excess of one ton to carry a green light on highways outside of cities from one-half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise.

The machine performed all the usual feats of an airplane and also of an automobile.

Modern fashions in dress are causing an alarming increase in the death rate from tuberculosis among young girls, according to Dr. John F. Kent, of the New York board of education.
